

Unique micro-learning program that reinforces learning and increases retention of safety and health compliance topics.

Your organization can now achieve measurable training outcomes through this innovative, lifelong learning solution.

HOW IT WORKS

Year-round, learners will receive one daily question on their PC or mobile device related to the original ClickSafety course they took. After 40 days, the questions will become “smart” and be individualized to address learner’s weakest competency. This “micro-learning” method meets the preferences of today’s learners used to short, digestible bits of content.

PROGRAM BENEFITS

Today’s learners like to consume information just in time, just in place and just enough. This program works because employees will:

- Need less than 60 seconds to read and respond to the daily question
- Receive immediate feedback
- Get real-time scores and ranking

In addition to improving safety and health knowledge retention for the learner, the employer, or training coordinator will be able to:

- Run custom reports showing participants’ test and compliance scores
- Identify and measure knowledge gaps or areas that need further training
- Generate documentation for compliance or audits

“Last week I was investigating a partial amputation that occurred on our premises. Although the contractor reported the incident, OSHA showed up and asked us for the injured worker’s training records, which we were able to provide from our ClickSafety training program. So far, there are no compliance issues associated with the injury. We have not been contacted by OSHA regarding the incident, but if they do, we have the training documentation.”
